📹 Why Your Highlight Video Matters

Your highlight video can be the first time a manager sees you play.

A good video can help create interest and encourage someone to watch you in person.

But your video should do more than show your best moments.

It should show:

- Your decision making
- Your movement
- Your consistency
- Your understanding of the game

⚽ Highlights Are More Than Goals

Many players only include:

- Goals
- Skills
- Big tackles
- Match-winning moments

But managers also want to see:

- Positioning
- Work rate
- Communication
- Movement off the ball
- Decision making

The moments between the highlights often tell the biggest story.

📝 Creating A Professional Video

A good highlight video should:

- Start with your details
- Be easy to follow
- Show your best actions early
- Include different games
- Stay short and focused

Recommended length:

3–5 minutes

⚠️ Common Mistakes

Avoid:

- Making the video too long
- Only showing goals
- Using poor quality footage
- Including clips where you are hard to identify
- Adding unnecessary effects

💡 NLN Tip

Your highlight video should show the player you are every week.

Don't only show your best moment.

Show your reliability.
